

NUTS & BOLTS REAL-TIME UPDATE

Early Bird Registration for 2011 Conference Has Been Extended!

Just a few more days remain for the Early Bird Conference Registration Rate of $295. After Friday, May 20, the registration rate increases to $345.

And don't forget about the First Timer's Incentive. It may not be too late to qualify. Read all about it on the Registration Gateway Page.

Conference Website Updates

Presenter information is being added to the Conference website. You can go directly to the Presenter page to view them, or just click on links within the agenda.

2011 Ride & Room Sharing Group Available

A Ride & Room Sharing Group has again been created for this year's conference to help members make connections for transportation to and from the conference and/or find roommates. Go to www.nfrbmea.org/2011\_conference/ride\_and\_room\_share.htm for more information. It is recommended that you get a Yahoo ID and access the group that way so that you can see all preceding posts prior to your joining.

One person has already joined, expressing an interest in taking on a passenger enroute and sharing gas expense. Details and contact information are available in this post.

Calling ALL Members!

While we are certainly hoping that you will be able to attend this year's conference in Nashville, a link to the NFRBMEA Membership Application page has been provided for paying membership dues only at the bottom of the Conference Registration Gateway page.

NFRBMEA Spring Board Meeting Held April 11

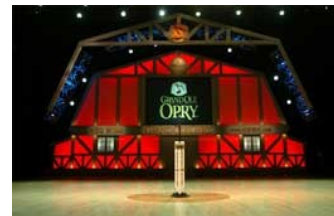

Our board held its Spring meeting via Webinar on Monday, April 11.

Topics discussed included the upcoming 2011 National Farm Business Management Conference in Nashville, the 2012 Conference in Bloomington, MN, and membership. We also heard from our treasurer. Minutes from this meeting will be posted on www.nfrbmea.org soon.
